People like being at Waredaca because what we offer is unique.

Our core staff members have been involved in Waredaca management for over 25 years. Many of our instructors, all of which are either certified by CHA or the USEA, have been teaching here for over 15 years. Some began riding here as children.

This continuity of personnel offers boarders and students reassurance that is hard to match. Visitors easily recognize our commitment to the horses, the farm and to the people here. Standards are high, as is camaraderie and friendship.

Cheerful people and contented horses are key ingredients in the recipe for our success.

2025 RATES

FIELD BOARD: $575 PER MONTH

A mixed-gender herd that lives in large field, with hay provided. An affordable option for boarders who are able to provide all regular care for their horse.

FIELD BOARD PLUS: $730 PER MONTH

A mixed-gender herd that includes our Pony Club school horses. These horses come in once a day for a short period to receive grain, supplements, and medications, in addition to hay provided in the field.

STALL BOARD: $900 PER MONTH

Full care for horses in one of our barns. Each horse has their own stall and tack storage space, and they are turned out in gender-separated herds, switching seasonally between daytime and nighttime turnout. Horses are fed twice a day and provided with hay and water in their stalls and in their fields.

TRAINING: $640-$960 PER MONTH

Training packages with Head Trainer Steph Kohr include lessons and schooling rides. A la carte lessons and training rides are also available. Rates with other trainers are priced on an individual basis.

ABOUT OUR FARM

Waredaca Farm is a 220-acre recreational horseback riding facility. Included on the property are five cross-country jumping courses, one indoor arena, and two outdoor all-weather riding arenas, with schooling jumps available. Adjacent to the farm is Patuxent River State Park; thousands of acres of recreational-use land maintained in its natural ecologic condition. Our own farm brewery, the Waredaca Brewing Company, features excellent beers, nonalcoholic beverages, snack options and much more!

Approximately 80 horses live on the property. Stall-boarded mares and geldings are turned out separately whereas field-boarded horses are in mixed herds on large, open fields. Fresh water exists throughout the property, as does much natural shelter, in addition to sheds and water troughs. The fencing is both board and high tensile wire, checked daily. Robert and Gretchen live at Waredaca, as do Steph and Keith, and other family members; so there is round-the-clock monitoring of all horses.

Horses follow a routine at Waredaca supervised by our professional staff. We feed Purina performance products; hay provided is generally timothy and other grass blends.

Our farriers, Alpha Omega Associates, visit Waredaca on a weekly basis. The worming and vaccination program we use is under the guidance and advice of Damascus Equine Associates, the veterinary group that handles our equine care at Waredaca. It is most important that all the horses at Waredaca are on the same schedule of preventative care to offer the best protection possible and minimize the problems of parasite infestation. You may use your own farrier or vet for other care, but it becomes your responsibility to assist or hold your horse.

Dogs are welcome at Waredaca if they are well behaved, supervised, and on-leash, according to our Dog Policy.

Three weekends each year, Waredaca hosts US Equestrian Federation/US Eventing Association recognized competitions—early May, mid-August, and late October. The October event also includes our Classic Three-Day competition, a rare offering in this region. We also organize three unrecognized events throughout the year, host summer schooling show evenings, and monthly clinics with top-level eventing and dressage riders. Waredaca is also an active US Pony Club Riding Center.
